

A scene from INSIDIOUS, 2010

That afternoon, Dalton's mother, took out the trash cans, looked through the window and saw a little boy in the living-room who was dancing. She stopped and stared at him. She decided to go back into the house. She approached the boy who ran into Dalton's room. She followed him upstairs and went into the bedroom. She saw the rocking horse which was swinging behind the door. She pushed the door, the rocking horse stopped swinging but there was nobody on top of it. The mother looked at Dalton's wardrobe and saw two feet sticking out of the cupboard. She opened it and saw the little boy who ran away . This was too scary !!!
